Friday May 22nd at NW Folklife Festival: "CONSUME THIS MOVIE"

(80min, Gene Brockhoff, 2008) ...A SHOP-U-MENTARY - WITH CECILE ANDREWS!

Seattle Center – Intiman Theater Outdoor Courtyard

Are Americans too materialistic? Are we willfully trashing the planetary ecology in order to serve the desires and drives of the ego? And what, or who could be driving this powerful force of seduction?

Americans are finally beginning to challenge our culture of greed and materialism. CONSUME THIS MOVIE stars Cecile Andrews, Juliet Schor, Peter Whybrow and others; and takes a critical look at social injustice, peak oil, resource depletion and our deep need to feel connected to each other through what we choose to consume. Join us for a facilitated discussion with Cecile Andrews! Cecile is author of Slow is Beautiful and Circle of Simplicity. Sunday May 24th at NW Folklife Festival: "GOOD FOOD" (72 min, Melissa Young & Mark Dworkin, 2008)

SUSTAINABLE FOOD AND FARMING IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST, WITH THE FILMMAKERS, MELISSA YOUNG & MARK DWORKIN Seattle Center – Intiman Theater Outdoor Courtyard

"A film to awaken our taste buds and our courage..." -Frances Moore Lappe, author of Diet for a Small Planet, Hope's Edge

Something remarkable is happening in the fields and orchards of the Pacific Northwest. Small family farmers are making a comeback. They're growing much healthier food, and lots more food per acre, while using less energy and water than factory farms. "GOOD FOOD" is a wonderful new documentary about sustainable food and farming in the Northwest by local filmmakers Melissa Young & Mark Dworkin.

"GOOD FOOD" visits producers, farmers' markets, distributors, stores, restaurants, chefs and public officials who are developing a more sustainable food system for all. Join us for Q&A and discussion with the filmmakers Melissa Young & Mark Dworkin following the film.
